

JONES

Appointed City Marshal By Mayor Ross.

MITCHELL POLICE JUDGE

Six of the Present Force Are Retained.

Charles M. Jones, City Marshal, D. A. Mitchell, Police Judge, Police—A. G. Burr, James Cairns, C. T. Davis, George Smith, Park Massey, Harry Sutton, Lyle Simpson, J. T. McMillen, Sylvester Anderson, G. C. Kessler, James Oliver, H. C. Reeder, J. W. Dunbar, James Rice, Grant Knepple, and P. V. Healy.

The council chamber had more visitors last night than ever before, not excepting election nights, when returns are being anxiously sought. The gallery was comfortably filled, and every seat in the chamber proper was occupied. Long before the meeting was called to order the councilmen gathered in the city clerk's office and talked in undertones. Many anxious faces there were among the spectators, principally those who expected their official heads to be decapitated, for there were many of the Pop policemen who came in and called to one side some member of the council and would then go slowly out, with a disconsolate air and a woe-begone stride.

When City Clerk Kramer called the roll every member was present and Mayor Ross was in the chair. There was a suppressed excitement visible while the routine business was being attended to, but the crowd sat waiting patiently until they should learn who was to be city marshal. However, it had been whispered around that Charles Jones would be the appointee, and this fact gave such general satisfaction that the spectators felt as if they could afford to wait. Several of the mayor's appointments were complete surprises. Of the old men, that is, those now serving, he reappointed six. They are Cairns, Davis, McMillen, Reeder, Knepple and Healy.

Mr. Volk, chairman of the lighting committee, made a short report. He said that the police department had consumed $341.90 worth of gas and electricity since they had ceased to turn over any funds to the city. The report was received.

Mr. Herbig moved that the city attorney be authorized to draw an ordinance repealing ordinance No. 120. It carried. This was done so that a street commissioner can be appointed. The mayor without cavil announced that he would veto any ordinance to appoint a street commissioner.

The city clerk then read the claims and accounts.

The following petitions for sidewalks were then read: All were given the customary thirty days. They are all to be five feet wide unless otherwise mentioned.

Cinder, east side of Mosley, between Douglas and Second.

Cinder, south side of Lincoln, between Fourth and Water.

Permanent, south side of Tenth, between Main and Jefferson.

Cinder, north side of Texas, between Seneca and Dodge.

Petition for curb and guttering on Topeka avenue in front of the Johnston-Larimer dry goods house, went over it being necessary to have an ordinance drawn.

Frank Smith and J. Jamison asked to carry all dead animals free. The prayer was granted.

Mr. Smith then read the following resolution, which carried:

"Whereas, There is now pending in the district court of Harvey county, Kan., an action wherein the Rock Island Lumber company is plaintiff and S. E. Jocelyn, president of the board of police, et al., are defendants, and

"Whereas, The said Fourth National bank had in its vaults, and now has on hand, the sum of $43 which is claimed by the city of Wichita to be its property, and which was deposited in said bank by said S. E. Jocelyn, president of said police commission; and

"Whereas, The said Fourth National bank is willing to turn over said sum of $43 in controversy to said city of Wichita upon the condition that the said city of Wichita will hold said Fourth National bank harmless from any judgment or order that may be made by said garnishment proceedings; therefore, be it

"Resolved by the mayor and councilmen of the city of Wichita, That in case the said Fourth National bank shall turn over to the general fund of the city the said sum of $43 in controversy, the said city of Wichita will, and does hereby bind itself to save said Fourth National bank harmless from any judgment or order that may hereafter be rendered or made in said garnishment proceedings.

J. Giles Smith, R. F. McLean, R. E. Guthrie, finance committee.

Several bids for lighting the suburbs were opened and read and referred to the light committee. Mr. McLean then moved that the council go into executive session before adjourning.

Mayor Ross then read the appointments which are given above. Immediately after each appointment was made the council confirmed them. Mayor Ross then gave it out that all of the men appointed should be at the city clerk's office this morning before 10 o'clock and be sworn. He also gave forth the following advice: These appointments are made with the understanding that they are subject to discharge at any time at the pleasure of the mayor and council without preferring charges.

Mayor Ross also said that it was not to be turned to political uses and any one trying to do so would be summarily bounced from the force.

The new city marshal, Mr. Charles M. Jones, has lived in this city for the past twelve years. He came here from Charlotte, Mich., where he had been for years in the clothing business. He embarked in the same line here, the firm being Cole & Jones. The firm dissolved partnership in '93 and later Mr. Jones retired. When Governor Morrill was elected and took his seat he named Mr. Jones as president of the board of police commissioners, but owing to political wrangles caused by the prohibitionists Mr. Jones resigned. He is a third-degree Mason and one of the best known men in the state. He has a long following of admirers and his appointment meets with general favor. His well known executive ability makes him well qualified for the position which he will assume today.

TOOK MORPHINE

DR. J. E. ENGLISH OF ANDALE

Commits Suicide By Taking a Dose of Poison.

Last night Dr. A. E. English committed suicide at the Manhattan hotel by taking morphine. He has been in the city for probably a week, rooming at the Manhattan house but taking his meals at some other place. He had been drinking rather heavily since here. He had letters on his person addressed to him at Andale, Kan., and a card indicating membership in the Knights of Pythias lodge at Cortland, Kan. He was found about 10 o'clock and a physician called, but the poison had already done its work. At midnight the corpse was removed to Dunbar's. He is known to have been married but his wife is in the east visiting. An inquest will be held today.

RUN FOR LIFE

Miss Midgee Lee Chases Ed Vennia With a Revolver

Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock the neighborhood of Douglas and Fourth avenues was awakened from the general routine of affairs by the quick discharge of three pistol shots. The negro waiters in the Carey hotel made it convenient to go to the kitchen while the waiters sat paralyzed with fright in their chairs. The shots were shots of love. The cupid doing the shooting was Miss Midgee Lee, a dusky Venus who had or thought she had been jilted by her sweetheart. None of the leaden missiles took effect but it wasn't Miss Lee's fault.

The Lethargy causing the spangs of jealousy to arise within the heretofore peaceful breast of Miss Lee was Ed Vennia. He is constitutionally opposed to work, unless it is to work some one. For a while he was very successful in this respect with Miss Lee but for some unknown cause she failed to respond to his coolings for the filthy lucre and he hunted up some other girl who appreciated him more and would give him enough to see the dice roll on a "natural." As soon as Miss Midgee learned that she was to be put in cold storage she determined to raise the anti and so him one better. She got a gaiting gun and started out to find the faithless Eddie. She found him at the home of the girl who had gained the affection of her dearest sweetheart. He saw her first and started to run. Miss Lee firing at him as he ran. Vennia made a straightaway gallop down Fourth avenue without a break. He turned the corner and caught his second wind and sped on with the rapidity of a Johnson or Barlow. Coming with the heavy ordinance was Miss Lee, somewhat impeded, perhaps, with hobbies but going like a major and pulling the trigger of the gun with every impulse of long pent up anger.

Vennia finally eluded Miss Lee, where only a few short days ago he had been wanted to meet her. Officer Fox at the time was at dinner but soon appeared on the scene but both of the parties had taken to the wood pile and could not be found.

DICK BIVINS KILLED

Shot Twice by Captain Ellis at Cloud, Texas.

Mr. Andy Payne returned yesterday from Cloud, Texas, where he said there had been a shooting across the border. Dick Bivins had been killed by Captain Ellis. The trouble arose over a cattle trade. Both of the men were wealthy cattle dealers and were well known all over the northern part of Texas and Southern Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Bivins was a young man, perhaps not over 30, while Ellis was creeping onto the afternoon of life. The revolver carried a 45 cartridge and two bullets penetrated Bivins: One in the stomach and the other near the heart.

WITHDREW HER ACCOUNT

One Woman Who Did Not Propose to Pay the Revenue

The two cent stamps will have to be attached today to all bank checks drawn. The banks report that fewer checks were drawn yesterday than is usual, which shows that the business men are patriotic, even if they can not go to the front. One woman who had a small account at the Fourth National bank withdrew her balance, saying that she wasn't going to pay two cents every time she wanted to draw a check. This is the only case known in the city where accounts were withdrawn to avoid helping defray the expense of the war. Mr. Jones of the Bank of Commerce, said that he did not believe deposits would decrease 1 per cent on account of the revenue imposed. Several parties drew checks yesterday for larger amounts intending to pay cash for small bills where hereafter they have drawn checks. One business man said yesterday that he knew he would be worked. When asked how he explained it this way: "Some man will come into my store and buy a good bill of goods and ask for a check to pay for them. I want have the nerve to say anything about the two cents revenue but it will be paid by me because it will be drawn on my check."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodcock and daughter were here yesterday visiting with Mr. Woodcock's parents, Colonel and Mrs. L. N. Woodcock. They will leave this morning for their home in Kansas City. Miss Ethel Woodcock returning with them for a short visit.

Miss Wanda Hollister left last evening for Wellington, where she will visit with friends for a short time. Before returning she will go to El Reno and Kingfisher.

TODAY

New Revenue Law Goes Into Effect.

STRUGGLE WITH STAMPS

Will Characterize Today's Business in Wichita.

Washington, June 30.—In answer to numerous inquiries on the subject, the commissioner of internal revenue today stated that postage stamps could be used in place of revenue stamps, except such as had been imprinted by the government with the letters "I. R." If the ordinary postage stamps not so imprinted were used for internal revenue purposes, the documents or articles to which they were applied would be regarded as unstamped and treated accordingly. Attention is also called to the fact that imprinted stamps cannot be used in payment of postage.

Wichita will go all a-tangle today trying to put the new revenue stamps where they belong, for the war revenue act is in effect.

Bankers, druggists and all sorts of business men went home last night scratching their heads in anticipation of the back-in complexities of the first day under the new law. Everybody is patriotic and more than willing to pay the tax, but everybody is kicking on the trouble anticipated. But they must put on the stamps.

When Governor Stanley comes down town this morning and issues a check of $5 for rent and another check of $5 for groceries, they will cost him two cents apiece and he must put on the stamp. He will probably bring a crate of early ripe peaches from his Riverside place and express them to a friend in Kansas City and the receipt for them from the company must be stamped. He may send a telegram to Mort Abbaugh, chairman of the state central committee and Mr. Stanley must put a one-cent stamp on the message or it will not be received at the counter.

About the next matter of business Mr. Stanley will attend to will be to take out a life insurance policy for $5,000, and that will cost him $4 in stamps, or eight cents a hundred, and the stamps must be stuck on to the policy. He will go over and take $3 in stock in a creamery station at Andale and be compelled to stick on five cents in stamps. He has succeeded in collecting an old debt for an eastern inventor, who saw the boom and was conquered, and today when Mr. Stanley remits net proceeds by draft, he will stick on a stamp. He will take a proxy for an associate in the Wichita nursery, but he cannot vote in the corporate election until said proxy is stamped good and full with Uncle Sam's carmine stamp, an inch and a half in length bearing a picture of the Maine and reading "U. S. Internal Revenue—Documentary." He will have to leave an extra acre of ground next to his Riverside home to extend his patch of strawberries and if the lease reads for more than three years it will take fifty of those two-cent carmine colored revenue stamps, and the probability is that Mr. Stanley will have to pay a foot of white paper to be used for stamp margin.

Mr. Stanley will have volumes of trouble today for he'll be bound to forget something while he is hurrying. And if any other man in Wichita has less trouble than Mr. Stanley, it will be because he does less business. For the stamps must be put on.

Mr. Stanley frequently has occasion to telephone to Arkansas City and Wellington on matters of business, and today when he calls up Wellington it will cost him, besides his regular toll, three of the carmine colored two-cent revenue stamps. And when he makes his bank deposit at the close of the day, it will cost him another stamp. Before he leaves the office the last mail will bring him a deed to another lot and the deed must be stamped at fifty cents a hundred. The prescription he gets at the drug store on his way home will be stamped and the sack of flour he has the grocer run over to his road cart will be stamped. When he gets home and sits down on the porch to cool, he'll come as near to swearing as he ever does when he remembers that in making out a mortgage renewal for a client he forgot to attach a stamp and he'll sweat worse than ever for after a day of licking and sticking stamps he has fallen short of 7.2mg a law abiding citizen, and when he goes to supper he will be abstractedly asking Mr. Stanley if the plates are properly stamped. And he'll mean in unison with the balance of Wichita: "Let us have peace."

It will require some running around to get these stamps, for not many have decided to deal in them. All the banks and telegraph offices will have them and they can also be secured at the postoffice. Dealers will get a commission of one per cent. There is a scarcity of stamps, only the larger denominations having arrived. The following special rates are imposed:
